The 15 Best Romantic Winter Getaways for a Couple's Trip

For some, romantic winter getaways evoke images of curling up by roaring fireplaces with glasses of bold red wines and watching the snow come down through picture windows. Others prefer escaping to sunshine-filled beach locales, where the biggest decisions to make are whether to order margaritas or a bottle of Champagne to the cabana. The truth is, it all works, because the only requirement of a fabulous couple's trip is being together in a wonderful place—and letting the hotel staff spoil you. Here, we've rounded up some of our favorite hotels and resorts that create unforgettable experiences for two.

Washington School House Hotel, Park City, Utah

Vibe: Boutique, cossetting, elegant

At a Glance: Ditching the rustic log cabin vibe one might expect from a Park City hotel, the Washington School House has a modern and glamorous coziness.

Indagare Loves: The location parallel to Park City's historic Main Street, but at a far enough distance to avoid noise and crowds; the stylish décor with elegant touches including chandeliers, antiques and modern art; the friendly staff, who can accommodate any request and who make a point to get to know guests individually

"The Washington School House was delightful. The penthouse room was one of the prettiest and most comfortable rooms that we have ever stayed in. The included food and wine was delightfully delicious." — Indagare member Shelby Butterfield
